

THE FRENCH CLOCK

So to begin.....

Before we set off I would draw your attention to two books that are well worth acquiring if your interest is likely to be permanent. They might be available on loan from your local public library if you are not planning further work.

PRACTICAL CLOCK REPAIRING

Donald de Carle, F.B.H.I.

Medallist British Horological Institute

My copy is the Second Edition 1968 11th Reprint 1984

244 Pages - Hardbound N.A.G.

Press Ltd., Ipswich, Suffolk ISBN

= 7198 0000 5

*The previous edition of this book, together with its partner
"Practical Watch Repairing" was my personal introduction and principal tutor
when I began watch and clock repair as a young man in 1954*

THE CLOCK REPAIRER'S HANDBOOK

Laurie Penman

My own copy is the New Enlarged Edition 1992

176 Pages - Hardbound

David & Charles, Brunel House, Newton Abbot, Devon

ISBN = 0-7153-0054-7

This is an excellent volume covering logical repair and very good task explanations

Books, Tools and Parts can be bought at from Horological Supply Houses
I have no commercial link with these suppliers other than as a customer.
